FLIES,---FLIES.

EMERY'S
Great American Fly Catcher,
Patented May 1, 1866, by Jas. Emery,
Manufactured and sold by
SEAVEY & CO.,
Nos. 83 and 85, Blackstone Street, Boston.
THIS is the greatest invention of the age for destroying that great pest, the House Fly, which is so annoying to every household and destructive to goods displayed in show windows. Hotel and Saloon Tables should be ornamented with them—thereby doing away with that unclean appearance too often observed.
There has been heretofore objections raised against the use of Fly Paper on account of its unclean appearance, together with the trouble it occasions by the dead flies dropping about into every thing. Now by this truly elegant invention, these great objections are entirely done away with. The flies are all collected within the Catcher, giving a neat and wholesome appearance to the premises where used.
In stores where goods are exhibited and exposed to the damaging influence of the fly, this invention cannot be over estimated.
THE SICK ROOM
Is rendered more comfortable, and the patient requires less attendance. The infant can take his nap in peace.
Mothers, no nursery should be without its Fly Catcher.
Watch Makers, Engravers, Artists, and all other persons engaged in delicate employment, will find them an indispensable article for their rooms—another great consideration is its cheapness and durability—for 50 or 75 cents, according to style, you have a Fly Destroyer that will last an age.
TRY ONE AND YOU WILL BE SATISFIED.
The Catcher's have been recently improved by adding a perforated bottom and lower entrance.—The Catchers are warranted to catch a host of flies, or no sale.
Arrangements will soon be made for their sale in all cities and towns in the country.
Orders sent to SEAVEY & CO., will be answered promptly.
Canvassers will find this the best selling article for the next four months, ever invented.
DIRECTIONS:
Fill one dish with molasses, place over it its perforated cover; in the other dish put a small piece of fly paper moistened with sweetened water.—Place these dishes within the trap. A common tumbler is to be used as a dome over the centre opening at the top. The flies after entering being separated from the bait will eat the poison, and are thereby destroyed. For sale by
B. F. BRADBURY, No. 8 Smith's Block,
And by J. F. PATTEN & CO., No. 1 Granite Block

Despatches to the Evening Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.

Steamship Bavaria has just arrived at this port.

Five deaths by cholera occurred on board during the passage. She is detained at quarantine, with four cases of the same disease on board.

FORTRESS MONROE, Aug. 13.

Instead of 12 days quarantine on vessels arriving from New York, an arrangement has been made that a competent medical inspector at New York shall give a certificate of health to all steamers, and they will be further examined on their arrival off this port.

The steamers Smith Briggs and St. Brewster have been sold at Norfolk. The former brought $750, and the latter $1675.—They had just been raised from the bottom of the river, where they were sunk during the war.

London, Aug. 13. The Prince of Wales reviewed 30,000 volunteers in Yorkshire on Saturday.

Cholera is decreasing in London.

W. Bates, an iron master of Tunstall, has failed—liabilities half a million of dollars, half of which is secured by the works, owned by Mr. Bates.

Paris, Aug. 13. The Constitutional says: While France has a right to compensation from Prussia, her true interest is not insignificant territorial aggrandizement, but to aid in the re-organization of Germany and of Europe.

The Moniteur, alluding to the statement of The London Times that it discovers warlike intentions on the part of France in the purchase of cavalry horses and saltpetre, says the French government has hastened the cavalry remount because a foreign government has bought 20,000 horses in France. There is a full supply of powder on hand, and there is no necessity for saltpetre. The Moniteur goes on to show the specific instructions of the Emperor.

The Bourse closed heavy. Rentes 68f 95c.

Berlin, Aug. 13. The treaty of alliance forwarded by Prussia to the German government with which she is on terms of friendship, has been partly signed, and will be completed by the remainder in a few days.

Preparations for contemplated annexation are progressing rapidly.

A committee has been appointed to report on the Frankfort contribution.

Florence, Aug. 13. General Menebra has left for Germany, via Paris. He is entrusted with the mission on the conclusion of peace.

The armistice which commences to-day, will end Sept. 19th, with a day's notice on either side.

The provisioning of Venice is to be free, and prisoners are to be exchanged.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 13. Martial law, which has been in operation in 13 districts of the Empire, has been abolished.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.

A special despatch from Raleigh, N. C., says 52 counties give 1600 majority against the Constitution. Thirty counties are yet to be heard from. The measure is probably defeated.

Speaking of the various shifts to which the vicissitudes of war have since driven Confederate officers for a livelihood, the Richmond Enquirer relates the following, among other similar incidents:

"An officer of Gen. Lee's army, who stood high in the service for gallantry, bravery and efficiency—who was well connected, and before the war had been well-to-do in the world—found himself at Lee's surrender, possessed of nothing on earth except Confederate money, his horse and a silver watch. He sold the watch to a Yankee officer for a small sum in greenbacks, and divided his money equally among the members of his mess, who were all as needy as himself. He then came to Richmond, seeking employment. This was very difficult to obtain, and he accepted the first offer he had, which was to drive one of Garber & Co's omnibusses. He immediately entered upon duty, and now laughingly tells of his "first load," which consisted of a number of Yankee travellers "sight-seeing the battle-fields, together with several negroes mixed up in the coach."

VISIT TO THE BATTLE FIELDS OF PETERSBURG. After being comfortably put away at the hotel in Petersburg, and refreshed from the fatigues of the journey, I started on a reconnoissance of the line of works surrounding that city, and found "all quiet along the lines", and how quiet to the thousands who have fallen there in both armies! I visited Fort Steedman, Battery No. 8, (where Gen. Burnside exploded his mine and the little, military reputation he had left) Fort Hell and Fort Damnation, and various other works of less or no notoriety. The battery under which the mine was exploded is now called the "Crater", and is exhibited to the curious for twenty-five cts. It is in the midst of a luxurious corn-field, and is itself planted in watermelons and fruit trees. The immense excavation made by the explosion is now nearly closed to the surface, as it was converted to the uses of sepulture, and contains, as I was assured, about two thousand five hundred dead bodies. Human bones, no longer a terror of unusual sight to those living in the vicinity of battle fields, are being exposed in every part of the works, and probably cartloads have been carried away as relics. It is confidently asserted that within an area of forty acres near this battery, 20,000 men slain in battle sleep in death, without a stone to mark their resting place or indicate whose husband, son, brother, or "near one and dearer still", lies there. At this point the hostile lines were separated only seventy yards, and it was across this narrow strip of neutral ground that Gen. Burnside's command made the charge upon the battery which resulted so disastrously. Fort Hell, as well as other forts visited, must have been very strong, for notwithstanding that it has been almost entirely dismantled, as have the rest, by stealing away the timber for firewood, it is still a most formidable work.—[Cor. Chicago Times.

OBSERVATION ON ABSORPTION BY THE SKIN. The question whether or not the skin absorbs the medicines applied to it by means of baths, ointments, &c., has long been a matter of dispute among physicians. In a paper addressed to the French Academy of Sciences, Dr. Scoutetten endeavors to decide it definitively. The skin, he says does absorb, but its absorbing power may be promoted, impeded, or even prevented, according to the form under which the substance to be absorbed is applied to it. It is well known that the skin contains a large number of follicles, by which fatty matter is secreted, intended to lubricate it and maintain it in a state of suppleness. Besides these sebaceous follicles, the skin also contains glands which secrete perspiration. The latter, in being evaporated, does not, of course, carry away with it the various salts it contains in dissolution, but deposits them on the fatty matter, where they soon mix with the particles of all kinds conveyed by the air.—This compound film which covers the skin prevents the action of water, which is known to have no action on fatty substances. The imbricated structure of the epidermis is an other cause which impedes the action of water on the skin. This is so true that, when water is collected under the skin by means of blistering, it cannot find an issue without some violent mechanical means, such as cutting or tearing open. A third cause which prevents the absorption of water and the salts it contains is the cohesion of the aqueous particles themselves; for, though liquid, they are difficult to separate from each other as daily experience proves.

These three causes combined render the absorption of water by the skin impossible. But there are causes also, which facilitate absorption; such, for instance, is the gaseous form, which is eminently calculated to penetrate through the pores; the absorption of oxygen, for instance, is the cause of the pain one feels when the skin is scorched.—So liquids that are easily volatillized may be absorbed, especially when they have the property of dissolving greasy substances; such, for instance, as ether, chloroform, benzine, &c. Even solids, when capable of volatilization, will penetrate through the skin; camphor, musk, cantharides are among the number. Lastly, certain solids powdered and made up into ointments with hog's lard, will, by friction, be absorbed by the pores, because the natural fatty film of the skin will be dissolved, converted into a sort of soap by the alkaline salts, and thus become assimilated with the medicinal substance.

Gov. Orr's statement that he is "in favor of acknowledging 'all debts contracted by your government or my government' for whatever purpose," is construed by many to mean that he favors the payment of the debts of two distinct governments, one of which is ours and the other of which was his. If this is so he advocates adding two thousand millions of dollars to our national indebtedness.

NOT MUCH OF A CRIME. The New York World evidently does not think treason much of a crime. Taking up arms against the government, the starvation of Union prisoners, the massacre of negroes wearing the Federal uniform, are crimes worthy of being punished by defeat—only that, and nothing more. Read what the paper says:

The hideous desolation of the South should allay the spirit of vengeance. It is easy to say that treason deserves punishment; but only demons in human shape can demand greater suffering than has been inflicted.

Possibly the editor may have personal motives for wishing to cultivate a spirit of charity. He may be afraid to have justice done to traitors.

The Richmond Times gives Mr. Johnson the following gentle nudge:

There are cheering indications that it is the purpose of the President, before long, to bowstring a number of the military satraps of the radical party, and put conservative soldiers from West Point in their places.—The Augean stable of the Freedmen's Bureau stands sadly in need of cleansing.

—The partisans of the early closing movement in Brooklyn are very much in earnest, and after a certain hour in the evening transparencies are stationed opposite the door of offending merchants inscribed as follows:

"All respectable dry goods stores are closed at 7 P. M."
"Shoddy sold at night."

—The Journal de Quebec states that a poor farmer of St. Anne de la Pocatiere, who had heard that a relative of his father in Europe had died, leaving a large fortune, and who had sent papers to claim his share of the inheritance, received the other day from Frankfort a draft on the British North American Bank for £109,500 as a first instalment. Elated with joy, he had promised to pay off the debt of the Parish Church and to build a convent at his own expense. He came to Quebec with the Notary of the Parish, and in company with many friends, to draw the money from the bank, when the draft was discovered to have no value.

—A traveller writes from New Hampshire an amusing incident, which shows that under certain circumstances a license law may be made useful in more ways than one. He says: "From Lawrence we passed through Methuen to Salem, N. H. We were forcibly reminded of the fact that we had passed from the control of state constabulary laws, when an old farmer, whom we asked to show us where the state line ran, pointed to the boundary stone, and added: 'You can get something to drink at that house just beyond.' We thanked him for the intelligence, but decided not to avail ourselves of what he doubtless deemed most useful information."

PARDONED IN BULK. It is said that Andy Johnson has issued a pardon broad enough to embrace every member of the Philadelphia Convention from the North or South.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—Some of Shakspeare's plays have recently been translated, into Hindostanee, and are published at Bombay.

—It is rumored that Henry A. Wise's property has been returned to him and the freedmen ordered to vacate it by order of the President.

—The popularity of railways in Russia is such that landed proprietors give up their lands gratuitously, and their example is followed by towns and villages.

—A Cincinnati photographer has succeeded in taking a number of fine views in the Mammoth Cave, notwithstanding he was deprived of the aid of sunlight.

—The papers state that Mayor Monroe, of New Orleans, was formerly a stevedore on Long Wharf, Boston. If he was no better stevedore than he is Mayor, we are not surprised at his changing his occupation.

—The Southerners at Philadelphia have made sufficient concessions to Northern sentiments, by allowing three men from the North to be kicked out of the Convention. Fernandy, Val, and a half crazy drunkard by the name of Dean, were the unfortunate martyrs. At the present writing, no Confederate soldiers or other Southern rebels have been sent back.

—A conscience stricken citizen of Chicago, who is desirous of making his peace with God, returns $14,000 to the United States Treasurer. Let the revival go on.

—A man out West says that he moved so often during one year that whenever a covered wagon stopped at his gate his chickens would fall on their backs and hold up their feet, in order to be tied and thrown in.

—A suit between Mr. Hudson, the ex-railway king, and the Northeastern Railway Company, relative to an estate at Whitby, England, has been decided in Mr. Hudson's favor, to the extent, it is said, of £40,000.

—A Calcutta letter says the misery and ruin caused by the stoppage of Agra, and Masterman's Bank in England promises to be greater than in the panic of 1830 and 1832, when the six great houses of Calcutta failed for £15,000,000, and paid only 25 per cent.

—The Loyal Convention of Southern men will meet on the 3d of September, and not on the 5th, as formerly reported. The Union men of Delaware are preparing to send a delegation from each county of the State, and in other sections of the country the same decided spirit is manifested.

—Pierce Butler, of Philadelphia, is personally testing the differences between slave and freed labor on his rice plantations in Georgia. Of over three hundred colored persons, once his slaves, all but a few have returned and accepted the wages he has offered them.

—The Richmond Times, with an apparent sense of relief, says: "By a mighty effort the Atlantic cable has at last been able to shake off that terrible Old Man of the Sea, Cyrus W. Field, long enough to communicate more important intelligence than the congratulatory messages of mayors and aldermen to the aforesaid Cyrus."

—The editor of the Macon (Ga.) Journal and Messenger says he has information that there is a very general excitement among the freedmen in favor of going to Liberia, and that an expedition on a very large scale is organizing.

—The Falls of St Anthony are perceptibly changing by the breaking away of the limestone ledge, and recede at the rate of about ten feet a year. The owners of the water power have decided to check this process by the erection of inclined aprons, that will break the force of the water and conduct it away from the quicksands which in many places underlie the rock.

—Some desperadoes in the Connecticut State Prison attempted to break out, and very nearly succeeded in killing the Warden, but aid came to the unfortunate official from an unexpected source; some prisoners who had refused to take part in the escape, rushed to his assistance, and after a desperate struggle rescued him from his would-be murderers.

—The New Orleans Times records the fact that U. S. troops were greeted with cheers from the white citizens of that city, shortly after the recent riot, for the first time since the secession of Louisiana. It is certainly a suggestive circumstance.

—A Paris letter says: "A few days ago a vintner's wife appeared as a witness at the bar of one of our courts, and upon being asked her name, declared herself Madame Durand, by birth Alexandrine de Brulard de Genlis. In reply to the question put by the court, she said she was a descendant of Madame de Genlis. The Duchess d'Abrante's daughter is a mantua-maker. M. Thiers' sister keeps a boarding-house."

—Senator Fessenden has declined the invitation, extended to him by prominent Republicans, to address the citizens of Massachusetts on public affairs. Mr. Fessenden says: "Debilitated by a long and arduous session of Congress, and by repeated attacks of illness, I find myself under the necessity of suspending, as far as possible, all mental effort and avoiding excitement of any kind. The recess is too short for attention to anything but my own physical improvement."

—Ten years ago there were but eight Lutheran ministers in Paris, and only four Lutheran churches. Now the number of ministers is twenty-one, and they have under their charge fourteen churches and chapels. Vast numbers of German laborers have been attracted to Paris within a few years, and the whole population has been rapidly increasing. The French government, at its own expense, has erected a fine church for the Lutherans, and has legally transferred it to their use.

What General Chamberlain Says.

All must unite in demanding security for the future. We must have guaranties good and sufficient against any future attempt to destroy this Government whether in the exercise of a pretended right by open war or BY MORE ARTFUL AND INSIDIOUS ASSAULTS against the principles on which this Nation was founded. These are points we cannot yield without danger and dishonor; and WHEN THE SOUTHERN STATES SHALL HAVE COMPLIED WITH THOSE CONDITIONS IN GOOD FAITH, they will be in a condition to ask association and fellowship with the loyal commonwealths of the country which they deserted with such violence and scorn. UNTIL THAT TIME, in my judgment, it is wise to hold them in strict probation. * * * * *

"We cannot go back to gather up the fragments of the Union as it was; we must now recognize the nation as it is, and make the Constitution what it should be."

Union County Convention.

The Free Labor System in Texas.

Brevet Major-Gen. J. B. Kiddo, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau for the State of Texas, recently submitted to Major-Gen. Howard a report of an inspection tour made through several sections of that State before taking command, he having relieved Brevet Brigadier-General E. M. Gregory, formerly Assistant Commissioner.

Gen. Kiddo reports that on taking command the cotton and other crops were so far advanced that the experiment of free labor and its relation to them was the first and most important subject which claimed attention. On investigation all the freed people were found to be at work, and there was no disposable labor in the State. There is a prevalent disposition on the part of the freedmen to disregard, and in many cases to violate their contracts without cause, and to abandon their employers' plantations at that critical period when the crops required the closest attention. The matter required immediate attention, and a circular order was issued by Gen. Kiddo, which had a salutary effect. The leading cause for the freedmen leaving the parties with whom they had contracted was, that the demand for labor was so great that employers would dishonorably take advantage of the ignorance of the colored people, and entice them by offering increased wages, or by representing that the contracts under which they were laboring were unjust and illegal.

Gen. Kiddo states in his report that all contracts for labor in cotton-growing regions should be made for the entire year, on account of three important periods in the growth of the crop—seeding, weedings and picking—extending over almost the whole year, and it being absolutely necessary to have labor at command for each of the periods.

Those planters who are kindly disposed toward the negroes report that they work well and cheerfully; that they observe the new regulations under which they have been placed toward their former masters with commendable propriety; that their good behavior has been beyond all expectation, and that they have not been carried away by exaggerated and impracticable ideas of freedom; and such men frankly avow that they would not re-enslave the freedmen if it were in their power.

Planters and employers now hire their laborers at from $10 to $20 per month, instead of having to buy at $1,000 to $1,500 each, and feed and clothe them; and when a negro dies the planter does not, as formerly, lose his price and expense, but only looks about for another.

A planter, who formerly owned 150 slaves, stated that fifty per cent. of the profits of his crop was required to supply the loss of negroes who died during the year, in addition to the expense of food and clothing, while now he saves this amount, minus the monthly wages of the laborers.

Gen. Kiddo believes that the Southern people will sooner become convinced of the justice of freedom and the injustice of slavery through the medium of personal finances than in any other way.

THE MUTILATION OF GEN. SHERIDAN'S DISPATCH. The Jersey City Times has the following:

A gentleman just from Washington informs us that he knows that the following is a part of what Gen. Phil. Sheridan did send in his dispatch to the authorities at Washington in reference to the riot at New Orleans. He says Gen. Sheridan used substantially the following language:

"This is one of the greatest outrages that ever occurred in any country. I refuse to obey the orders of any 'Confederate.' I tender my resignation, and shall keep New Orleans under martial law until further advices."

If that is what Gen. Sheridan sent, and it sounds just like what he would send, it is no wonder that his dispatches were mutilated or suppressed. We make this public statement on the authority of our informant, whose name is at the service of the officials, if they want it. Let them now publish Gen. Sheridan's original dispatches.

How Our Government obtained Rebel Information during the war.

Thus much of time present, and I go back to the closing days of the rebellion to narrate a bit of the romance of the war. The country will remember that during the winter our government obtained assurance of the hopelessness of the rebel cause by coming into possession of the testimony of Gen. Lee before a committee of the rebel Congress, which was never reported to the two Houses, except in select session, if at all.—A full history of the manner in which the government obtained that information would be more interesting than any romance, but it is too soon yet to do more than outline it. The evidence of Gen. Lee was taken late in the winter by this committee, and long before the committee had determined what course they should pursue—almost before the ink was dry upon their notes—the entire statement of the rebel General, word for word, was in the possession of President Lincoln at Washington. In the room where the committee met was a closet, and from that closet, immediately after their adjournment came the priceless information. Outside the house it at once changed hands, and a second party walked leisurely through the streets of Richmond with it, until on the environs he encountered one of the common country carts of this section proceeding with the half of a newly killed beef toward the rebel lines in Butler's front. No communication that the most lynx-eyed could perceive passed between the man and the cart, but the former gradually changed his direction and was soon walking back in the direction whence he had come. The cart went on, reached and passed through the rebel camps without molestation, and reached the pickets, where it halted as a matter of course. The beef was destined for the house of a planter just beyond the rebel lines, and in plain sight of their outposts, and about equidistant between them and our own outposts. These explanations made and a careless search of the cart made by the rebel sentry, that is a look into it, the cart proceeded on its way. Just as it neared the house a small party of our cavalry made a dash at it, and to the utter surprise of the rebel pickets who saw the whole affair, our men only hovered a moment around the cart, then galloped back with one more man than they came with, leaving cart and beef, driver and mule behind them. They did not know it then, but under the beef was a man, and the man had a package, and the package contained the statements of General Lee before the Committee of Congress a few hours before.

In outline, this was how the thing was done. It may seem strange, but Lincoln and Grant knew long before many of the highest officials of the insurgent government the sworn statement of their commander as to the hopelessness of further resistance. Knowing that the Government and Grant had this information explains many things in connection with the arrival within our lines of Hunter, Stephens, and Campbell, at the time of the Hampton Roads conference, which at the time were inexplicable. The feat of obtaining this information is unrivaled in the annals of war, and gradually, as the facts come to light, it will be found that Grant had every day such particular information from the rebel capital that he knew what Jeff. Davis was talking about each day in the most private of his conversations with his Cabinet and members of his Congress.—Correspondence of New York Times.

The fraternization so theatrically inaugurated to-day at the Wigwam, has been famously continued all the evening here at the hotel. Nearly all the Northern delegations have had meetings in parlors, and the Southern orators have gone the rounds, assuring their new allies that the South acknowledges her defeat, and now only desires her rights, prominent among which, of course, are a share of the offices, and chance to strike a blow at New England. There is a great quantity of hand shaking at these political love-feasts, and at some of them copious libations of Bourbon cement their union. The Northern men are profuse in their invitations to the Southerners to visit them and see that negroes are not so much worshiped by the Yankees after all. The Southerners return the complimentary invitations—some of them pathetically narrating how their homes were desolated by Sherman's bummers, or how Butler had their silver plate confiscated. Perhaps Yankee visitors to these sunny climes may be well treated under such protection, but I would not care to go anywhere in Dixie and there repeat what these reconstructed rebels declare, viz:—"That the South has been beaten". Neither would I go to Louisiana and in any crowd repeat the call made to-day in the Convention by Gen. Dick Taylor for "cheers for the Union."

I may be mistaken, but to me it is apparent that these loving Southerners are acting their assigned parts, and that all this demonstration of feeling is a great sham.

Meanwhile Thurlow Weed goes stealthily about from gathering to gathering, like Mephistophiles, smiling grimly, as if content with the success of his labors. Mr. Weed has also settled his private differences with Dean Richmond, and the pair, of Albany managers fraternize lovingly.

Vallandigham, Wood, Dean & Co. wear an air of injured innocence, and appear to think that their self-sacrifice, for the good of the new party is to be properly rewarded.—Of course it will be.

At a meeting of the Missouri delegation to-night Mr. John Hogan, their Chairman, a copperhead representative in Congress, gave a detailed account of several recent interviews which he has had with President Johnson. In one of these interviews Mr. Hogan mentioned that Gov. Fletcher of Missouri had ordered colored men to be enrolled in the militia. President Johnson manifested proper indignation at this, and told Mr Hogan that Gen. Hancock had been recently assigned to the command of that Department with instructions to put a stop to the enrollment of negroes. The President also declared that no one should hold any government office who would not support the policy.

It has been determined on that the delegates, on their return to their respective States, shall at once reorganize and reconstruct public opinion—(or rather endeavor to)—by public meetings and the circulation of documents. Especial pains will be taken to secure a working majority in the next Congress; and to bring this about the offices and the patronage of the Federal Government are to be used.

Hon. Moses McDonald of Maine first conceived the idea of this assemblage. While he was at Washington last winter he had an editorial article approving of it published at the time in the National Intelligencer. Mr. McDonald's brother, now of Princeton, N. J., made the opening prayer in the Convention to-day.

The South Carolina delegation has sent word to the Massachusetts delegation that it will pay a fraternal visit to-morrow morning. It has been suggested that among other remarks appropriate to this gay and festive reunion, a Massachusetts Republican delegate who not many years ago besought Charles Sumner to get him an office, make a few remarks eulogistic of the late Preston S. Brooks.—[Special to Boston Journal.

The colored men of Tennessee, if they have done no more in convention than to reiterate intelligently their demand for suffrage and equal rights, have thus far done good work. But before the convention closes, the education of the freedmen will receive an earnest thinking over, and it is likely that the proposal of the South Carolina blacks for a National Colored Convention will be greeted with favor.

FREEDMAN'S AFFAIRS IN GEORGIA.—General Davis Tillson, under date of Aug. 7, makes the following report of Freedmen's affairs in Georgia:

When I assumed charge of the Bureau here in June 1865, Freedmen's wages ranged from $2 to $7 per month, and the general opinion prevailed that at Christmas the lands, mules, &c., would be apportioned off among the negroes; consequently indolence was very prevalent, and the planters were disheartened regarding the Bureau as the champion of the Freedmen and unfriendly to them.

My first efforts were to correct these mistaken opinions, in which I met with flattering success. Preparations for planting begun early in the following February, and wages advanced from $12 and $15 a month. The testimony of the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens before the Reconstruction Committee is proof of the restoration of confidence and organization of labor by the Bureau.

In September last year, 120,000 rations were issued in Savannah, and as large, amounts in other parts of the State. By care and scrutinity the issue in that city was soon reduced 10,000, until in June last it fell below 20,000.

Hospitals for refugees and freedmen were established, and material aid extended to the civil authorities in enabling them to provide for the small-pox, prevalent during the past winter.

Schools have been established, valuable property gathered up and accounted for, that would have been lost to the Government. Local laws have been secured to the freedmen, protecting his rights and property but the continuance and agency of the Bureau is still a necessity, as planters depend upon it to obtain labor—the freedmen to receive their wages. The experience of the past year warrants the conclusion that 25 per cent of growing crops would be lost were not the Bureau in force to secure justice.

INSURANCE.—Mr. Editor:—Much has been said heretofore, in this State, to the prejudice of Foreign Insurance Companies, and at times a vigorous war has been waged against them in our Legislature. But I think that the prompt and liberal manner in which those companies have met their liabilities in this city during the present week, must have disarmed all such opposition. Allow me to state one case within my own knowledge as an illustration: A gentleman died a few years since, leaving a widow and one child, the heir to what little property was left after paying the debts of the estate. The property consisted of a lot of land, upon which were two houses. The widow, not understanding that the fee was in the child, took out a policy of insurance for $1,600 in her own name. The fire swept the land. She went to the agent sent here to settle losses. He saw at a glance that if entitled to anything, her legal claim could only be to the amount of her interest under her right of dower, not more than $400 probably. He could not have been compelled to pay more. He merely said that his company never took advantage of any legal exemption from their liabilities where the party assured had acted in good faith, but had lost their right to enforce payment through ignorance or mistake. And he sent away the widow with a draft for sixteen hundred dollars in her pocket. This was the HOME Insurance Company of New York. And this is not the solitary instance of a noble liberality in the dealings of that Company with our citizens.

BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS,

OR WORM LOZENGES. Much sickness, undoubtedly, with children and adults, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. The "VERMIFUGE COMFITS," although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child.—This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be safe and sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children.

CHILDREN HAVING WORMS require immediate attention, as neglect of the trouble often causes prolonged sickness.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS IN CHILDREN are often overlooked. Worms in the stomach and bowels cause irritation, which can be removed only by the use of a sure remedy. The combination of ingredients used in making Brown's "Vermifuge Comfits" is such as to give the best possible effect with safety.

KNOWLES'

Vegetable Hair Restorer!

AS A HAIR PREPARATION this stands without a rival—has proved itself by the thousands who have tested its virtues for the past three years,

THE ONLY RELIABLE RESTORER

Of Gray, Faded, or Diseased Hair, to its original color, condition and former beauty.

It is not a Dye, being a Vegetable Compound and not injurious in its application; but is warranted to restore Gray, Faded, or Diseased Hair to its original color in 20 days.

By its invigorating properties, promotes a luxuriant growth on Bald Heads, in all cases where such a result is possible; prevents the hair from falling off; eradicates dandruff, humors, and all other impurities from the scalp; and as a Restorer and Dressing combined, it has no equal.

The great and increasing sales of this preparation attest the high value in which it is held; and the fact that its reputation has been established solely upon its own merit and worth—the trial of a single bottle will convince the most skeptical of its virtues.

Prepared by WM. H. KNOWLES, Nashua, N. H. B. F. BRADBURY, Wholesale & Retail Agent. july 27—3md&w litary Occupation of Southern States to Cease.

ıflict of Customs Collectors in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.

ıe National Union Convention re-assembled at noon to-day.

'he wigwam was crowded with delegates spectators. A large number of ladies e also present.

en. Dix in the chair.

ev. Mr. Halsenger, of Tenn., opened the ceedings of the Convention by prayer.

en Dix then said that the first business order was the reports of the committees inted yesterday.

r Blair, of Maryland, here rose and r President: I am instructed by the mittee on permanent organization to e the following report—or President—Senator Doolittle of Wisin.

ıe announcement of the name of Mr Doo was greeted with a storm of cheers.

or Vice Presidents the following from England:

aine, L Woods; New Hampshire, Da. Marcy; Vermont, Myron Clark; Masusetts, Hon R B Hall; Rhode Island, lfred Anthony; Connecticut, Hon O F ıchester.

or Secretaries the following from New land:

laine, James Mann; New Hampshire, Cutter; Vermont, George H Simmons; sachusetts, Charles Wright; Rhode Is. l, James H Parsons; Connecticut, Jas. ovey.

he reader of the above report introduced ator Doolittle, who was received with most enthusiastic applause.

Ir. Doolittle, on taking the chair, said—tlemen of the Convention and fellow-tizens of the United States:

'or the distinguished honor of being callipon to preside over the deliberations of Convention, I sincerely thank you. I d have wished that its responsibilities fallen upon another, but relying upon courtesy and generous confidence which called me to the chair, I enter at once n its duties with an earnest for the success of that great cause in which we are now aged. Among the great events of our day, this Convention, as my opinion, prove to be one of the greatest, for eace hath her victories not less than ," and this convention is one of her vices—may I not say crowning victory? eers.)

'or the first time in six years a national vention, representing all the States, is assembled; six long weary years. As I back, oh, what an interval it is of blood, agony, and tears. During that period have been engaged in the most gigantic l war the world has ever seen, wasting resources, drenching a thousand battlels in fraternal blood, and carrying to fral graves our fathers' sons and our brothby hundreds of thousands. But thanks o Almighty God the war is over. Peace, sed peace, has come. The assurance that here witness tell us that peace has come, d come to stay.

iy fellow citizens, if the whole people of United States could see what we now nes—the north, the south, the east and west—joined in fraternal association as nds and fellow citizens, our work would lready done. (Cheers.) If they could e seen as we saw Massachusetts and th Carolina (applause) by their full delelons coming arm and arm into this great vention. (Enthusiastic applause.) If y could have seen this body, greater in nbers and in weight of character and in than ever has assembled on this cont under one roof, they would have lted to tears of joy and gratitude.

'o witness this there would be no struggle he polls in the coming elections. (Apuse). When I remember that it was ssachusetts and South Carolina that in nvention which framed the Constitution ed against the abolition of the slave de, that it was Massachusetts in 1812, ich, through some of her men, taught the ctrine of nullification which South Carna reasserted in 1833, and in the form of cession against asserted it in 1860. When all to mind that South Carolina fired the t gun in the contest and that the veins of ssachusetts poured out the first blood in struggle, and when I call to mind all se memories and at the same time ask the ople of the country to look in this conntion and see those two old States of the ilon coming here in fraternal embrace, proaching the common altar of a common intry, ready to make common sacrifices the good of the whole, I say again, ıld the whole people of the United States iness all this, there would remain no furer work for us to perform.

If the people of Massachusetts herself uld have witnessed it, not a single memr could be returned to Congress from that ate until he had given a most sacred prose that he would do all in his power to cognize the equality and dignity of all the ates under the constitution, including the cred and inalienable right of every State der the constitution to representation in th Houses of Congress.

Gentlemen of the Convention, I shall go to no argument on that occasion; the stinguished gentleman who preceded me Gen. Dix) has said all I would desire to say uch better than I could say it. I endorse d take great pleasure in endorsing all that he has said sentence by sentence, word by word.

Fellow citizens—Unfortunately it may be that the whole people of the United States are not here to witness what is now transpiring, therefore the greater work still rests upon us. From this time until the next election we should be untiring in our exertions to see to it that the next Congress, if this shall refuse the sacred right of representation to equal States, shall recognize that right.

When that is done the Union is restored, and when the Union is restored we shall be prepared in my judgment to enter upon a higher and nobler career among the nations of the earth than has ever yet been occupied by any government upon which the sun of heaven has ever shown. We shall stand in the vanguard of liberty and civilization.—We shall lead the way by the light of our example for all the nations of the earth.

Gentlemen, without detaining you longer, I shall enter at once upon the duties of the chair.

The Vice Presidents and Secretaries of the Convention were then invited to take seats upon the platform, and while doing so the band played several airs.

Gen Steedman, chairman of committee on credentials, made a report stating that there were no seats contested, except from Maine, Delaware and New York, and that of those cases the committee had made the following disposition—

The delegates elected by meeting held at Portland, and headed by Gov. Crosby, are entitled to admission as delegates from Me.

The delegates chosen at a meeting held at Dover on July 26th are entitled to admission from Delaware, and the persons chosen at Wilmington Aug. 2d are to be admitted to honorary seats in the convention.

The gentlemen attending from the United Society of Sailors and Soldiers of New York, and those elected by New York delegation and represented by Mr S J Tilden as chairman, are to be admitted to seats as honorary members.

The report was agreed to.

Much amusement was created by the chairman in inadvertently speaking of General Steedman as Senator from Ohio, and the slip of the tongue was characterized by some gentleman as prophetic.

Mr Groesbeck of Ohio, as the organ of the united delegation from that State, presented the letter of withdrawal from Vallandigham, and asked that it be read to the convention.

The chairman intimated that it would require a unanimous consent and asked whether there was any objection?

A delegate from New York rose and objected.

Loud cries of "Read it—read it.

Senator Johnston of Md., moved that the rules be suspended in order to allow the letter to be read. The rules were suspended and the letter read by the Secretary.

Girard House,
Philadelphia, Aug. 12.

To the Chairman of the National Union Convention, Philadelphia:

Sir,—I have this day received from the National Union Committee, through Wm S Groesbeck, chairman of joint Ohio delegations to your convention, a ticket of admission as delegate from that State. Geo. W Cook, chairman of Democratic delegation from Ohio, also communicated to me the following resolution this morning, adopted by that delegation:

Resolved, unanimously by the Ohio Democratic delegation, That we recognize the right of Clement L. Vallandigham, a duly elected delegate from the 3d Congressional District of Ohio, to hold a seat in that convention; that we regard his exclusion from such seat as an unjust and unreasonable infringement of the rights of the Democracy of said district, and are ready to stand by him in his assertion for his rights, and the rights of his constituents; that we endorse most cordially the purity and patriotism of motives, and his fitness in every way, to a seat in said convention; yet for the sake of harmony and good feeling in the same, and in order to secure the great ends for which it is called, we consent to his withdrawal to a seat in the convention, if in his judgment his duty to his constituents shall justify such withdrawal.

Yielding to my own deliberate convictions of duty and right to the almost unanimous opinion and desire of friends whose wisdom and soundness of judgment and sincerity and purity of motives, I may not question, to the end that there shall be no pretext from any quarter, for any controverted question of disturbing element in the convention to mar its harmony, or hinder in any way the results to the cause of the Constitution, the Union and public liberty, which shall follow from its deliberations and action, I hereby withdraw from the Ohio Democratic delegation, and decline taking my seat in the convention. I am profoundly conscious that the sanctity and magnitude of the interests involved in the present political canvass in the United States, are too immense not to demand a sacrifice of every consideration in a struggle upon the issue of which depends, as I most solemnly believe, the present peace and ultimately the existence of a free republican Government on this Continent.

Trusting that your deliberations may be harmonious, and your proceedings full of wisdom and patriotism and its results crowned with a glorious triumph in the end, of the great cause in which every sympathy to my heart is enlisted.

I am very respectfully your ob't serv't,
C. L. VALLANDIGHAM.

On motion of Senator Cowan of Pa., a committee of two from each State were appointed to prepare resolutions and address.

The following were subsequently appointed as said committee:

Hon. Edgar Cowan, Chairman.

From New England—

Maine—R D Rice, G M Weston.

New Hampshire—O H Bowers, H Bingham.

Vermont—C A Davenport, N Williams.

Massachusetts—D N Couch, C L Woodbury.

Rhode Island—W B Lawrence, Thomas Stone.

Connecticut—Jas Dixon, O S Seymour.

The chairman announced a telegraphic despatch from President Johnson, and directed the Secretary to read it.

This announcement was the signal for the whole convention and a greater part of the spectators to rise to their feet and cheer vehemently for President Johnson. After the applause subsided the despatch was read, as follows—

Washington, Aug. 14.

To O H Browning and A W Randall, National Union Convention, Philadelphia:

I thank you for your cheering and encouraging despatch. The finger of Providence is unerring and will guide you safely thro'. The people must be trusted and the country will be restored. My faith is unshaken as to the ultimate success.

(Signed) ANDREW JOHNSON.

Mr Carroll of N Y offered the following resolution, which was referred under the rule to the committee on resolutions without debate—

Resolved, That there is justly demanded a revision of our national neutrality law in consonance with the spirit of the age, the demands of commerce and the spirit of the nation, and that it is the duty of Congress to provide for such revision.

Mr S Hayes of Illinois offered a resolution directing the committee on resolutions to report in print, and to supply a copy of the resolutions at the time of presentation. He proceeded to discuss the resolution.

Samuel J Tilden of N. Y., raised a point of order, that under the rules adopted the resolution must be referred without debate.

The Chair sustained the point of order and declared the resolution was so referred.

Mr Hays, notwithstanding, continued to address the convention. He did not expect the convention to adopt any resolution or platform endorsing his opinions or the opinions of the democratic party to which he belonged.

Mr Perry asked that nothing would be put on the platform which a constitution and union loving democrat could not subscribe to. He knew the sentiment of the democratic party, and believed that if ever there was a patriotic party in the country, it was it.

Here the convention manifested its impatience by cries of "Question, question," and under another point of order, the Chairman decided that there was nothing before the convention for its action.

Nevertheless, Mr. Hayes, having appealed to the courtesy of the convention to let him explain himself, went on to say that he has known of platforms having been adopted in moments of enthusiasm, which were afterwards subjected to severe criticisms, and all that he desired was that the resolutions and address which might be reported by the committee should first be printed and delivered to the members so that they might be discussed by the several delegations before they were called upon to act on them in open convention.

The question of order was again reported and sustained by the chair, that there was nothing before the convention and Mr Hay subsided.

Mr Homer of Missouri, proposed a recess for an hour or two, but the proposition met with no favor and was not pressed.

Senator Cowan of Pa., chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, informed the convention that the committee would not be ready to report finally before to-morrow forenoon.

After several suggestions and propositions it was decided that the session to-morrow commence at 10 a. m. in order to get thro' the business as soon as possible.

Mr Bursaling of Pa., presented a memorial, presented by gentlemen from his Congressional district, which was on his motion not read.

Mr Babcock of Conn., also presented an address to the people of New England, proposed by members of the Louisiana, Mississippi and Missouri delegations who were born in New England, which was also referred unread to the Committee on Resolutions, and then on motion of Mr Orr, of South Carolina, at quarter past two o'clock the Convention adjourned.

The Post's special Washington despatch says:

Mr Seward had an interview with the President to-day, and it is reported that a proclamation will be immediately issued reestablishing the habeas corpus act in all the States, and the practical termination of the military occupation of the Southern States.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.

There were five cases and two deaths from cholera reported to-day.

Sixteen cases and two deaths are reported in Brooklyn.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 15.

The Board of Health reports but seventeen deaths by cholera since its first appearance here, mostly imported cases. The health of the city otherwise good.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.

The Commercial says—

The weakening tendency of the stock market has been checked by the announcement of the Secretary of the Treasury, calling for the presentation of certificates of deposit for redemption, on or before August 20th. Total amount of temporary loan outstanding Aug. 1st was $118,665,489. About fifty millions of this amount is represented by clearing house certificates which are not called in, so that nearly seventy millions will remain to be redeemed. The result will be to materially ease the money market at the time when the call for money to move the crops usually causes a rise of 1 a 2 per cent in the rate of interest. The effect of these aspects of the money market has been to strengthen the stocks, but as the market was being strongly committed to a bear movement, the effect was partially counteracted, and was less marked than otherwise might have been expected.

Governments are very active and ¼ a ½ per cent. higher partially in consequence of the rise in gold, but owing to the prospects of an enlarged demand for securities resulting from the redemption of the certificates of deposit.

Money abundant. Discounts quiet. Exchange nominal.

The gold market advanced sharply under the threatening aspect of affairs between France and Prussia, the intelligence having been used with the utmost respect by influential cliques in gold. At one p. m. gold sold at 1,52; at 1.30 p. m. at 1,51¼.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.

This morning Mr. Wm. F. Johnson, the newly appointed Collector of this port, visited the Custom House to present his credentials.

Col. Thomas, the acting Collector, stated that there were grave doubts as to the validity of the appointment of Mr. Johnson, under the peculiar circumstances of the case. The Senate had failed to act in the matter of his (Johnson's) appointment and the question arose as to whether he (Thomas) should of right relinquish his office to a gentleman who claimed it upon so uncertain a tenure. He (Thomas) had been appointed as a Republican, and he believed he only echoed the sentiments of the republican citizens of Philadelphia, in hesitating about relinquishing an office in which he had been placed by a republican President until the right of his successor was clearly established.

Col. Thomas continued by saying that he did not wish to appear captious, or yet was he willing to sacrifice any legal right which he might possess. He would prefer, before giving any final decision, to see his counsel, who was now absent from the city.

Mr. F. Carroll Brewster is counsel for Thomas.

LOCAL AND STATE ITEMS.

—Yesterday was decidedly a rainy day. Water is plenty now and bids fair to continue with us.

—Twenty-five years of unremitting attention to business has made such inroads upon our friend, Samuel S. Smith, that he has concluded to take a voyage to Europe to recuperate. He leaves to-day for Searsport, where he will embark on the ship Phineas Pendleton. He has our best wishes.

—We understand that accommodations for newspaper reporters are to be fitted up in the back office of D. F. Leavitt, Esq., of this city. It is supposed that another "mass convention" is in contemplation.

—Two dogs had a mass convention in West Market Square yesterday forenoon. They paid their attentions to each other until the conservative dog came off second best.

SOMETHING NOVEL.—We were shown yesterday a novel arrangement for hitching a horse, the invention of Mr. G. H. Crosby, of Hampden, which has some entirely original, and we think desirable points. A strap hooks into the reins over the dasher, passes through the bottom of the carriage, and attaches to a contrivance on the hub which winds up the horse suddenly when he starts. It unhooks if the horse backs, but effectually prevents him from going ahead. Experiments will show whether it will work well with restless horses. We have no doubt it will with a horse of ordinary life.

—The annual camp-meeting at Wesleyan grove, Northport, will commence on Monday, the 28th inst.

—At a Caucus in Ellsworth, delegates were elected favorable to the re-election of Hon. F. A. Pike by a vote of 314 to 247.

—A new stern-wheel steamer is now running between the terminus of the Portland and Rochester Railroad and West Buxton.

—Repairs upon the gas works at Lewiston have left the city in darkness for a few nights past. The Journal rejoices in the return of light.

—The two o'clock train from Skowhegan to Bath is to be discontinued. It connected with the line of steamers to Boston.

—Last spring Mr. Frank Fletcher of Camden, grafted an appletree; one of the scions set at the time has three large apples upon it. Don't think we ever before knew an instance where a scion bore fruit the first season.

SINGULAR. A boy at Fair Haven, Conn, devoured forty-one green pears, lots of green apples, and wound up with a small quantity of raw turnip. Strange to say, the stuff didn't agree with the boy and he became sick. He died of cholera.

—APPOINTMENT. Allen Haines, Esq., has been appointed Inspector of Internal Revenue for the 1st District, in place of W. M. Rust, Esq., resigned.

—There is a man in Portland who has drank so much poor whisky, that he can't tell the difference between kerosene oil and Jamaica rum. He frequently drinks a pint of camphene between meals. He thinks of joining a temperance society.

—Dr. Woods, of Bowdoin College, in his remarks to the graduating class, stated that he tendered his resignation of the Presidency of the College because he wished to devote his time more fully to literary labors. His first effort in the literary line is attending the Philadelphia Convention. Judging from his first effort, we may reasonably expect to find him writing Dime Novels next week.

—The postoffice in West Ripley has been discontinued. All mail matter for that office should be directed to Ripley, as there is now but one post office in the town.

—The Baptist Church in North Adams received to its communion recently, on a single Sabbath, 101 persons.

—Daniel Briggs, of Lewiston, cut this season, on a quarter of an acre of ground, one ton and a half of hay.

—A subscriber informs us that he was a witness to the remarkable phenomenon of the falling of snow in August. He says it occurred on Thursday of last week, the 7th inst., upon an elevation of land in the northeastern part of Vienna. A few flakes only fell, but enough to establish the fact, and to suggest thoughts of the approaching winter.—[Farmer.

—During the fire at Westbrook Sunday evening, the lurid light disclosed a fellow crawling into a house near by, through a cellar window undoubtedly for the purpose of robbery. The scamp was seized and there being no representative of legal justice on the spot, the crowd proceeded "then and there" to administer a little even-handed and hard-fisted lynch law. The would-be burglar was kicked and cuffed until his wicked life was well nigh banged out of him. We don't know what became of him but are willing to venture the assertion that he had rather take a couple of years at Thomaston than to fall into the hands of an indignant and angry crowd.—[Argus.

I. O. O. F. The R. W. Grand Lodge of Maine, met at Sons of Temperance Hall yesterday. There was an unusually large attendance, nearly every lodge in the State being represented.

M. W. G. Master J B Nealley of South Berwick, in his annual communication stated that the order generally, are in good condition.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:

M. W. Grand Master, Nathaniel G Cummings, of Ancient Brothers' Lodge, No. 4, Portland.

R. W. D. Grand Master, J W Sargent of Monson Lodge, No. 26, Kennebunk.

R. W Grand Warden, N H Colton, of Oriental Lodge, No. 62, Bangor.

R. W. Secretary and Treasurer, E. P. Banks of Ancient Brothers' Lodge, No. 4.

R. W. Grand Representative to Grand Lodge of United State, Benj. Kingsbury, Jr., of Ancient Brothers' Lodge, No. 4.

W. Grand Chaplain, Richard Cole, of Maine Lodge, No. 1, Portland.

The Grand Lodge of the United States meets at Baltimore on the third Tuesday of next September.—[Press.

—"Life in Richmond Prison," is the title of an original drama recently produced in the Town Hall at Fitchburg, Mass. The majority of the characters were sustained, it is stated, by persons who have really been prisoners at Richmond.

—There is no foundation for the rumor that three mummies from Egypt are accredited Delegates to the Philadelphia Convention. None but American Fossils are admitted.

HARD ON THE CITY. The citizens of Philadelphia are petitioning the Mayor to appoint a day of Fasting and Prayer. They think the presence of two scourges rather hard for one city. They bore the cholera well enough, but to force them to endure the Philadelphia Convention is more than human nature can bear without grumbling.

—The Philadelphia Convention was called to ascertain whether Jonah would swallow the whale or the whale swallow Jonah. At the latest accounts the Democratic whale was likely to swallow the conservative Jonah.

—The popular song "We're a band of Brothers" is to be sung at the opening of the Philadelphia Convention to-day, by Vallandigham, Thurlow Weed, Alex H. Stephens, and Henry J. Raymond. The whole Convention will join in the chorus.

Special Notice
To Soldiers and Seamen!!

The Law Has Passed!

Bounties Equalized.

Justice Done the Early Soldiers and Seamen of the War, their Widows and Heirs.

NOTICE has been sent me from Washington, that the Law equalizing the bounty to Soldiers and Seaman was passed Saturday last, July 28th, by Congress.

I am now authorized and prepared to collect this Bounty for every Soldier and Seaman entitled, also for their Widows and Heirs.

☞ Application made personally at my office, or by mail,—the discharge of the Soldier or Seaman should be handed in—as it must be forwarded with the application.

☞ All applications must be made signed, witnessed and sworn to, AFTER THE PASSAGE OF THIS LAW. Many soldiers have been induced to sign papers before the law passed. This practice is irregular, fraudulent and void, and papers in all such cases must be made over.

THE MUTUAL
Life Insurance Co.,
OF NEW YORK.
Assets over $16,000,000!

TO meet the choice of such present or future members as may prefer to have the amount insured paid in instalments to their widows or heirs, rather than in one sum, this Company is prepared to insert in its policies a clause agreeing that in lieu of the payment of the policy and profits in one sum, an equitable amount, to be determined by the Company, may be paid annually or semi-annually for any specified number of years, (say from five to twenty-five years,) if desired.

EXAMPLE.—Suppose a policy of $10,000, with additions amounting to $5000 more, should become payable by reason of the death of the person insured, the Company, in lieu of the payment of $15,000 in one sum, would be able to give (assuming interest as realized in the past) an annuity for ten years of over $2000 per annum, or for twenty years an annuity of over $1300 per annum.

This form of annuity will remove the anxiety which may exist in the minds of some policy-holders lest the future provision they have made for their families should be ineffectual or transitory in its duration, either through unsafe investments, unwise expenditure, or other uncertainties incidental to contingent trusts.

It is not only free from the ordinary dangers of investment, but its punctual and full payment is secured by the LARGE AND SOLID CASH RESOURCES and good faith of this institution, which thus, to a certain extent, becomes the GUARDIAN or TRUSTEE of the survivors. Hence the provision may be considered, humanly speaking, beyond any adverse contingency.

☞ All such deferred payments or annuities will share equitably in the profits or dividends of the Company.

This Company also issues SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES, which provide for survivors during the whole period of life, and DEFERRED ANNUITIES, by which individuals may provide for themselves in advanced age.

From the Lady's Friend.

One Summer's Romance.

BY CLARA AUGUSTA.

(Concluded)

He bent down and looked into her face. It was not the light of the sunset that made it so so rosy for that was quenched in gray clouds. He drew her suddenly to his side. Edith, dearest, I love you! Shall I have your love?'

The words were simple enough, but they answered their purpose and made her his.

To Edith life wore a new aspect—the dullness and weariness were all gone—she knew, now, why she did not feel regret at breaking with Sam Harlow. She wondered how she had ever managed to live before the dawn of these days stolen from Eden.

He left her at the gate—the night shadows were gathering—left her with kisses on her lips, and the remembrance of his words lingering like music behind. And she went up to her chamber to dream such dreams as had never before blest her.

It lasted a fortnight, and then the shadow fell. Edith was ashamed to own it herself; she took severe blame daily for her lack of faith in Archelaus Field. But how could she doubt the evidence of her own eyes!

A gay company of city people on their return from the White Mountains, had stopped for a few days at the Beauview House, at Hilldale Corner. A half dozen of them charmed with the delightful scenery, had remained, and the majority of the party had gone on without them.

Among those who loitered behind were Gertrude Ashmead and her mother. She, Gertrude, had all the beauty and bewitchingness of a syren. Her golden hair curled just closely enough to ensnare men's hearts, and her blue eyes held them captive. Her voice was sweet as the lips that uttered it, her form a fairy's and her hands and feet models of perfection.

She sang, and played, and danced, and did a hundred things that Edith did not do. Not because Edith had not the capabilities for learning, but because fate had not given her the privilege.

Miss Ashmead and Field were old acquaintances. Field was a gentleman: the instinct of his nature taught him to be gentle and courteous to all women. Of course he could not do otherwise than show Miss Ashmead about the delightful country she had given up New York society to explore. So it frequently happened that Edith looking up from her work at the rumble of wheels, saw Mr. Field riding past with the beautiful stranger by his side.

Once they had come to the farm-house together, Miss Ashmead in her sunny muslin robes, with her heavy India shawl trailing over her shoulders—coming out to see Edith making cheese in her dark calico dress, with her hair tucked closely into a net.

Edith felt, somehow ill at ease. She was conscious of looking badly, for the hard day's work had wearied her; and she had risen with a head ache. Perhaps, too, some contrast in their positions struck her painfully.

She went out into the spring-house for some water, and Field followed her. But just then she could not bear to meet him alone, so she fled to the kitchen by another door, and he had to take leave of her in the presence of Miss Ashmead. He was going up the river to be absent five or six days, going that afternoon. Edith did not say anything. He looked into her face to read her heart, an unutterable tenderness in his eyes, but she did not see it. She was looking at the ground.

He held her hands closely. 'Good-by, Edith. I regret the necessity for going, but Stanly refuses to go without me, and the company are impatient to have the survey completed. I hope you and Miss Ashmead will manage between you to make the time pass pleasantly.'

So he went away, and left Edith with a strange load at her heart, she could scarcely have told why.

Gertrude rode over the next day, bringing her mother with her. Mrs. Ashmead wished to taste of some of their new butter and home made bread, she said. Dick and Miss Ashmead went out in the orchard for apples, and Edith was left alone with Mrs. Ashmead.

'I am really grateful to Arch,' said that lady, nicely balancing her spoon above a bowl of rich milk, 'for giving us so delightful an acquaintance, Miss Edith. He thinks very highly of you, my dear, and for that reason, if not for your own worth, Gertrude would feel bound to cultivate you. She is always so happy to be agreeable to all Arch's friends.'

Edith's heart grew very cold. Arch! that was the name he had taught her to call him. His mother had called him so, he said, and since she died he had not heard that name from any woman's lips.

'Mr. Field and Gertrude have been all the world to each other for two years, went on Mrs. Ashmead, closely watching the unreadable face of Edith, but getting therefrom no intelligence, 'but I would not have you mention it to him or her for the world. I oughtn't to have spoken of it, but somehow you seem like an old friend. It annoys Gertrude greatly to have her engagement alluded to out of the family. My dear Miss Edith, I beg of you not to speak of it!'

'Certainly not,' Edith said calmly, and rising she went to the door. Mrs. Fernleigh was washing the churn.

'Let me finish it,' Edith said, starting at the sound of her own voice, and wondering that she was alive to speak. 'Mrs. Ashmead wishes to get your receipt for pickling walnuts.'

How very dark the sky had grown; she looked up to see if the sun still shone, and saw the world wrapped in the purple haze of autumn, with the gold and amber and crimson of October aflame all over the hillsides.

Mrs. Ashmead was baffled. This plain country girl was too much for her. But her secret was safe, and its power would work, the lady said to herself, slipping her diamond ring slowly up and down her finger.

When night came, Edith went down by the river and cast herself before God and his mercy. She prayed as she had never prayed before—prayed for the peace which came not. But pride kept her up. She was so grateful that Field was absent. She wanted him to stay away until she could gain a little strength with which to meet the painful crisis so near at hand.

'When he comes back,' she said to herself, 'I will give him back his liberty, and then —God help me.'

The day before his expected return, Edith went to the river to draw water for the next day's cleaning. It was nearly November now, and Mrs. Fernleigh was in full blast at her favoritte business, house cleaning.

The river ran very swift at that point, for only a few rods below was the Falls. She had nearly finished her task, when something azure and golden fell into the water a little way up the stream, and the shrill scream that burst on the air came from the lips of Gertrude Ashmead. She had been searching for flowers, and had ventured out too far on a treacherous projection of roots and earth.

And just before her was the Falls, with their sharp, cruel rocks, over which no one could pass, and come forth with a semblance of humanity upon them. A fearful thought shot through Edith's mind. If Gertrude died what stood between her and Archelaus Field! She drove the demon forth with a fierce cry. 'God help me and her,' was both need [illegible]

She ran swiftly along the brink of the stream to a narrow point which extended out into the stream a few feet, just above the Falls, and clinging to the drooping branch of a willow, she waded in waist deep, and was just in season to catch the floating drapery of Gertrude as she was sweeping past. Miss Ashmead still retained her consciousness and clung to Edith with a death-like tenacity.

Edith put the branch of the willow into her hand. 'Hold fast and I will try to wade to shore and help you up. It will not sustain the weight of both of us.'

She relinquished her hold—took a step forward—her foot slipped over a wet pebble, and in a moment the swirling current drew her out of her depth. She looked up at the blue sky—her last look she thought—and the thunder of the Falls shut out all other sound.

But a strong arm cleft the waters just below her, and an instant after the strong arm of Archelaus Field closed round her. He bore her to the shore, and pressed his cheek to hers—'Edith, my darling! my darling! God be thanked you are safe!'

'Go to Gertrude,' she said faintly, 'she needs you. I will not keep you longer.'

'Keep me!' he cried passionately, 'you will keep me always! And Gertrude has no special need of my services—she has got safe to shore. Do you know I have not seen you for six whole days, and now, I have taken you from the very jaws of death?'

She lifted herself from his embrace, and tried to speak calmly. 'Mr. Field, it might as well be done now. Do not give expression to what you do not feel. I know all—go to Gertrude—your betrothed wife—she is waiting for you. And if you love her, God make you happy and forgive you the wrong you have done me. I can bear it. It's just as I have borne burdens always—it will not be so hard for me as for some.'

'My little Edith,' he had her in his arms again; and was kissing the color back to her lips. 'And so you think I love Miss Ashmead? A flirt, to whom I was foolish enough to give a lesson. She has flirted with half the men in her set, and came here expressly to try her arts on Stanley and myself.'

'But Mrs. Ashmead said—' began Edith, and then she stopped suddenly, remembering her promise.

'Mrs. Ashmead said we were engaged, did she? Mrs. Ashmead broke the ninth commandment, and she knew it. I love only you, Edith, of all the women in the world. And Miss Ashmead is my witness—this is my betrothed wife, Miss Ashmead, and as you owe your life to her I hope you will be very good friends when we are all settled in New York.'

Miss Ashmead paled to the lips—she saw the game was up; but she was not troubled with much heart, and she did very well.—Only she did not stay in Hilldale to assist in her own defeat. Her mother was weary of the country, she said; and two days after, the stage took them away.

And at Christmas, Field had finished his labors, and he carried his wife to his home with him. The old life of toil, Edith left forever behind her, and the new life of love and rest open to receive her.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

A positive and specific remedy for all diseases originating from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

L

SCROFULA, STRUMA, GLANDULAR SWELLINGS, ULCERATION, KING'S EVIL, ERYSIPELAS, SALT RHEUM.

This taint (HEREDITARY and ACQUIRED) filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

RHEUMATISM.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of twenty or thirty years standing have been cured.

I

NERVOUSNESS.

Nervous Debility, Shattered Nerves, St. Vitus' Dance, Loss of Power, Confusion of Thoughts, Epilepsy.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering women will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfills more than in promises.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.

Salivation, Rotting of Bones, Bad Complexion, Aches in Bones, Feeling of Weakness, Depression of Spirits.

F

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP Eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, and all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

E

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP CURES ALL SWELLING OF THE GLANDS, Either of the Face, Neck, or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking, and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

S

All scrofulous persons suffering from general Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia and Dropsey of the limbs, abdomen, and in the female, Dropsey of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort.

Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body, will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife, or operations of any kind.

Y

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Disease of the Heart, as palpitation, Disease of the Valves producing a grating or filing sound, Dropsey of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ (persons suffering from any acute pain in the region of the heart), will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

BROKEN DOWN AND DELICATE CONSTITUTIONS SUFFERING FROM INDISPOSITION TO EXERTION, PAIN IN THE BACK, LOSS OF MEMORY, FOREBODINGS, HORROR OF CALAMITY, FEAR OF DISEASE, DIMNESS OF VISION, DRY, HOT SKIN AND EXTREMITIES, WANT OF SLEEP, RESTLESSNESS, PALE, HAGGARD COUNTENANCE, AND LASSITUDE OF THE MUSCULAR SYSTEM, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

R

FOR ALL FORMS OF Ulcerative Diseases, Either of the Nose, Throat, Tongue, Spine, Forehead or Scalp, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face depending upon the diseased action of the liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP, will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit which is directly under the skin.

In the diseases of the Liver, giving rise to Languor, Dizziness, Indigestion, Weak Stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, will be relieved by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

U

AS A GENERAL BLOOD PURIFYING AGENT THE LIFE SYRUP STANDS UNRIVALLED BY ANY PREPARATION IN THE WORLD.

THE RICH AND POOR are liable to the same diseases. Nature and Science has made the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD Produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death is the result. Price $1 25 per bottle, one half dozen for $7.

BARRETT'S THE BEST VEGETABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Is creating a sensation among the friends of those who have had their gray hair restored to its youthful color, and those whose bald heads have been covered with a luxuriant growth of hair. It so changes and improves their looks that intimate acquaintances scarcely recognize each other. For sale by druggists, of whom circulars can be obtained containing testimony to prove what we have intimated.

Home Proof.

MR. BARRETT: DEAR SIR,—Having used a bottle of your "VEGETABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE" after having tried many other kinds without success, I am happy to accord to it the ne plus ultra of ALL Hair Preparations in the world, and do myself sincerely and cheerfully recommend it to the public as such. Yours, &c., JOHN FRANKLIN, No. 6 Tremont street, Boston.

Testimony from Abroad.

Messrs. J. R. BARRETT & CO: I was induced by a friend to make a trial of BARRETT'S VEGETABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE, and I am very much pleased with the effect it has had on my hair. I was nearly half gray, and now, before using one bottle, my head is freed from dandruff, and my hair has all the appearance of youth. I fully believe BARRETT'S to be the best Hair Preparation in the world. WM. HAMILTON.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON." Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE." Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. DR. LAROOKAH'S Sarsaparilla Compound,

For the Speedy and Permanent Cure of Liver Complaints, Scrofula or King's Evil, Eruptions, and all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches and Boils; Rheumatic and Neuralgic Pains in the Bones, Side and Head; for the various Weaknesses to which Females are liable; Dyspepsia, Debility, Emaciation, Dropsy, and all diseases resulting from or in an impure state of the Blood.

IT is invaluable to Nervous Sufferers, and a positive cure for Palsy arising from the abuse of Mercury or Lead.

It is a Tonic as well as an Alterative, and a sure protection from attacks that originate in change of climate, season or life.

LIVER COMPLAINTS and their combined symptoms, such as Lumbago, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Bilious Eruptions, &c. When caused by Scrofula taint, this compound is a most effectual remedy.

DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, is often caused by Scrofula, which deranges the stomach, and renders it unhealthy. Indigestion is not always caused by Scrofula, when it is, this Sarsaparilla Compound is a ready cure.

NEURALGIA, HEADACHE and various disorders of the nervous system frequently arise from a low state of the constitutional health, and are much relieved and often cured by this powerful remedy.

ERYSIPELAS, Boils, Tumors, or Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Sores, &c. Moderate doses three times a day will usually effect the cure of the above complaints, but often requires considerable time.

Price one dollar per bottle. Six bottles for five dollars.

DR. LAROOKAH'S ALL-CONQUERING INDIAN VEGETABLE PULMONIC SYRUP,

A Sovereign Remedy for Coughs Colds, Bronchitis Consumption, and all diseases of the Throat & Lungs.

Unsurpassed by any Medical Discovery in the World. DR. E. R. KNIGHTS, Proprietor, Melrose, Mass.

Price 50 Cents and $1,00 per Bottle.

DR. KNIGHTS' Oriental Hair Restorer.

After a long series of experiments, this article, as it is now offered to the public, is believed to be the most perfect of its kind which science has ever devised. No pains have been spared to produce what has so long been demanded by thousands, who, from sickness or other causes, have become prematurely grey; and others, who, in the sere and yellow leaf of life, would retain, as far as possible, the semblance of youth. DR. KNIGHTS' ORIENTAL HAIR RESTORER, after a few applications, restores grey or faded hair to its original color, and is the only preparation of the kind upon which the public can place any reliance. It has never been known to fail in a single instance, and is totally unlike the thousand and one so-called Hair Restorers, by which so many have been egregiously deceived.

It is delightfully perfumed, gives the hair a rich and glossy appearance, promotes its luxuriant growth, and will not soil the skin, scalp, or any article of apparel.

PRICE 75 CENTS PER BOTTLE.

Prepared by E. B. KNIGHTS, Chemist, Melrose, Mass.

Sold by B. F. Bradbury, General Agent, Bangor, and by Druggists and Merchants everywhere. sept. 18—3tawd&wly

Notice to the Public!

In the year 1846, the writer embarked in the Drug Business in the city of Philadelphia, and while thus engaged, made several experiments in regard to the most desirable mode of preparing Fluid Extracts.—My efforts being successful—the articles being approved and used by the Medical Faculty—I was desirous of placing them before the public, but hesitated for some time before concluding to resort to newspaper advertising, knowing the prejudice that existed in the minds of many against using advertised Medicines or Nostrums, but through the advice of friends and those who had used them this objection was overcome.

After 18 years' exertion, commencing in a small way, the popularity of my articles has extended to all parts of the United States, and widely throughout foreign countries—and this in the face of much opposition. Every means has been resorted to by unprincipled dealers since their merit and success have been known—such as advertising larger bottles at less price, censuring all other preparations, and even copying my advertisements—but I am happy to state that out of the many who have resorted to this, none have been successful.

MY OBJECT

In this notice is to make facts known to the public and respectable dealers, believing after so many years' exertions, that the Druggists will discountenance such proceedings, and that the reputation of my articles may not be damaged by use of inferior or spurious ones.

Knowing that many may read this article who are unacquainted with me, I append a few remarks from those of my native city, and whose names are known in all parts of the world:

"Being personally acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold, it affords me pleasure in stating I have been most favorably impressed with his energy and integrity, and gratified at his success." WM. WEIGHTMAN. Firm of Powers & Weightman, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

[Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.]

"When on a visit to the city of New York a few days since, I was induced to call on our old friend and townsman Mr. H. T. Helmbold, Druggist, 594 Broadway, New York. His store is a Model—perfect Gem—the handsomest of any kind we have ever had the pleasure of viewing, a d so extensive, being 34 feet front, five stories in height, and over 200 feet deep. It indeed affords us much pleasure to know that he has been so successful, and it is ample evidence of the merits of his articles—as in our whole business experience we have not known of the success of any articles without Merit—advertising merely bringing the name before the people." [Boston Herald.]

"We do not like to advertise worthless wares, or articles calculated to deceive our readers; and when we see an advertiser like Mr. Helmbold, whom we have known for years, gradually extend his advertising from year to year until he becomes the largest advertiser in the United States, we are satisfied that the statements in regard to his articles must be correct."

The writer reluctantly inserts the above, and would not do so were he not a stranger to many; and concludes by stating the names of his articles and the diseases for which they have been used by many thousands with complete success.

[ADVERTISEMENT.]

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU Will cure all diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Cures Pain or Weakness in the Back, Strictures, &c. Cures Weak Nerves, Loss of Memory, Trembling, Dimness of Vision.

Helmbold's Fluid Extract of Buchu Is a pure fluid extract, and not a weak tea or infusion. It is the one thing needful for all complaints incident to Females. For particulars send for Circular.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXT. BUCHU Cures Gravel and Dropsical Swelling existing in Men, Women or Children; in fact, all diseases requiring the aid of a Diuretic. It is the greatest Tonic and Diuretic known—perfectly safe, pleasant in taste and odor, and immediate in its action.

HELMBOLD'S Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla HIGHLY CONCENTRATED.

One bottle equivalent in strength to one gallon of the Syrup or Decoction.

It reaches the seat of the disease immediately, expelling all HUMORS of the BLOOD, And Beautifying the Complexion.

These articles, being of such strength, the dose is exceedingly small. From this fact, it is used in the United States Army Hospitals and public Sanitary Institutions throughout the land.

Cut out the advertisement and send for it, and by this means avoid Counterfeit.

To insure the genuine, cut this out.

Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other!
